Tokyo Haneda Airport certified with the highest 5-Star COVID-19 Safety Rating by SKYTRAX

Tokyo Haneda Airport has been certified with the highest 5-Star COVID-19 Safety Rating by SKYTRAX^{*1}. The Skytrax COVID-19 Safety Rating is a trusted assessment and certification of airport health and safety measures during coronavirus pandemic that is based on professional and scientific investigation of the standards being provided by airport.

Mr. Isao Takashiro, Chairman and CEO of JAT said: “It is a great honor for us to be certified and to receive the highest 5-Star COVID-19 Airport Safety Rating by Skytrax. We believe that our efforts to prevent infection among airport users and employees, such as disinfecting high-contact areas in the terminals, ensuring social distance in each area, and introducing contactless devices, have been highly evaluated. Haneda Airport will continue to make the utmost efforts to strengthen preventive measures in cooperation with related organizations.”

Edward Plaisted of Skytrax said: “We are very impressed with the scale and consistency of COVID-19 Safety protocols that are provided here at Tokyo Haneda International Airport, and congratulate them on becoming the first airport in Japan to receive this highest COVID-19 Airport Safety Rating. Just days before the opening of the Olympic Games Tokyo 2020, this COVID-19 Safety Rating offers great assurance to customers travelling in and out of Haneda Airport, and highlights the effectiveness of the hygiene and safety procedures in place which help to provide the safest environment for customers and staff.”
